Re Nda

The DDCI's effort to please everyone re the Nda had a predictable effect. Instead of substituting Form 4193 for Form 4066, agencies are creating their own NDA's, which eventually may be found unacceptable to other agencies. The failure or refusal of CIA to agree to retrofit encourages further fragmentation. CIA should choose a position with the greatest promise of eventual uniformity in the Community. Recommend we agree to retrofit on an "opportunity basis."

Re SCI Accountability

I agree with the concept of retention of receipts to support leak investigations, but do not consider it appropriate guidance, as it leaves too much to the discretion of too many. Recommend we retain retention for minimum of six months and add "or as long as required to assure appropriate support to investigations of unauthorized disclosure of the document's contents."

Page 8, line 17 of the draft DCID reads "All persons holding or being given SCI access shall sign an NdA." The only interpretation of this language is that it requires a "retrofit." I believe D/Sec should strongly object on the grounds that the DCI has not mandated a retrofit and, as the attached correspondence reflects, a retrofit would entail an enormous administrative burden with no discernible benefit.
